

After installing and setting up your preferable VM and after downloading the ISO file, open your VM software

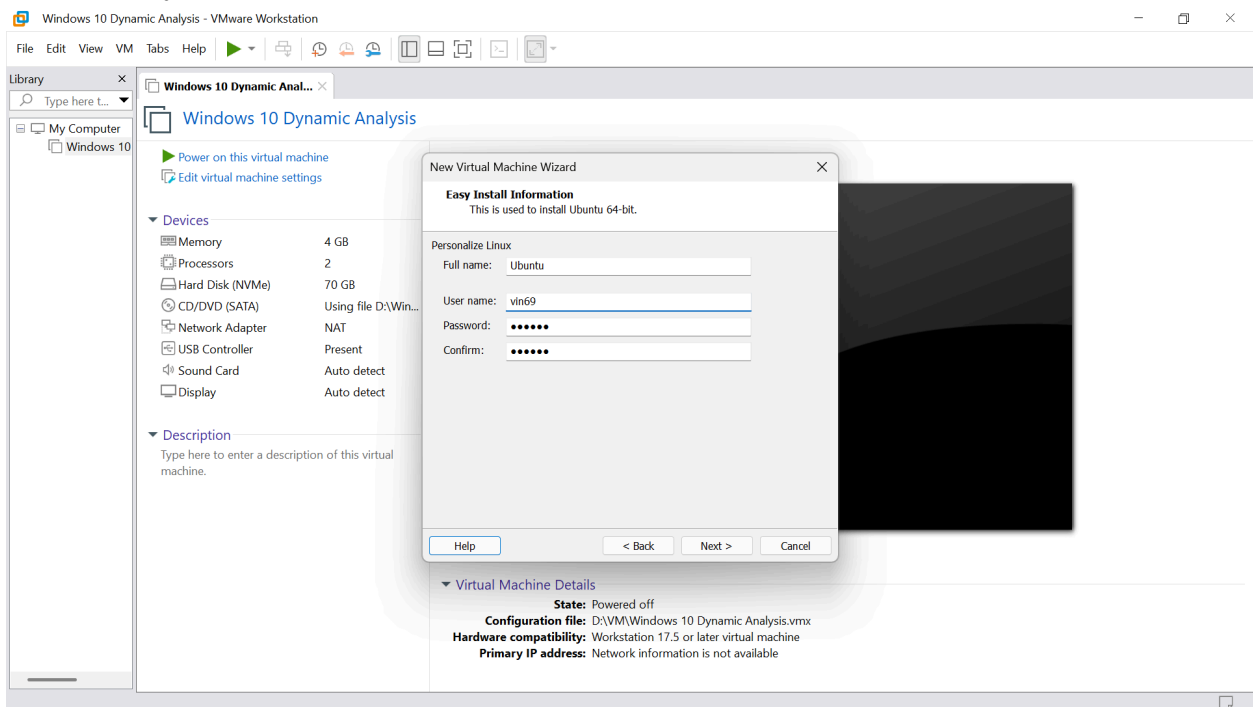

Select creating the New Virtual machine

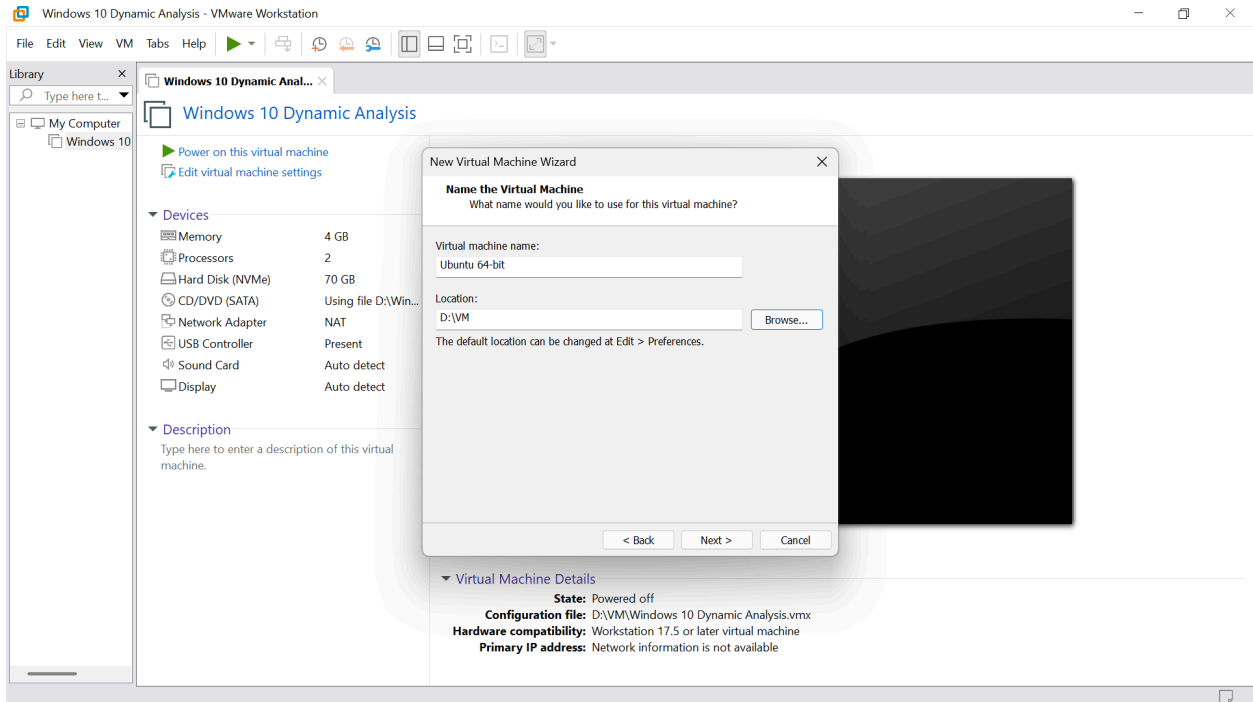

It is recommended to Selected Typical here

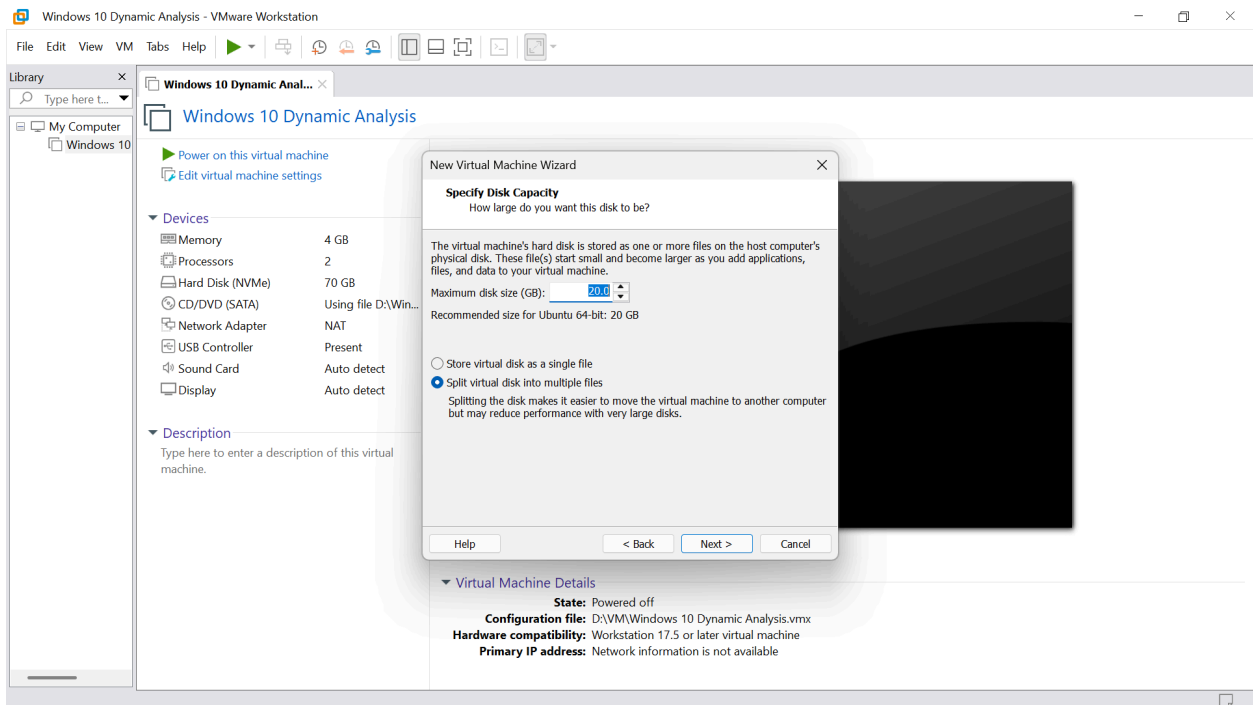

Here Select your ISO file and click next

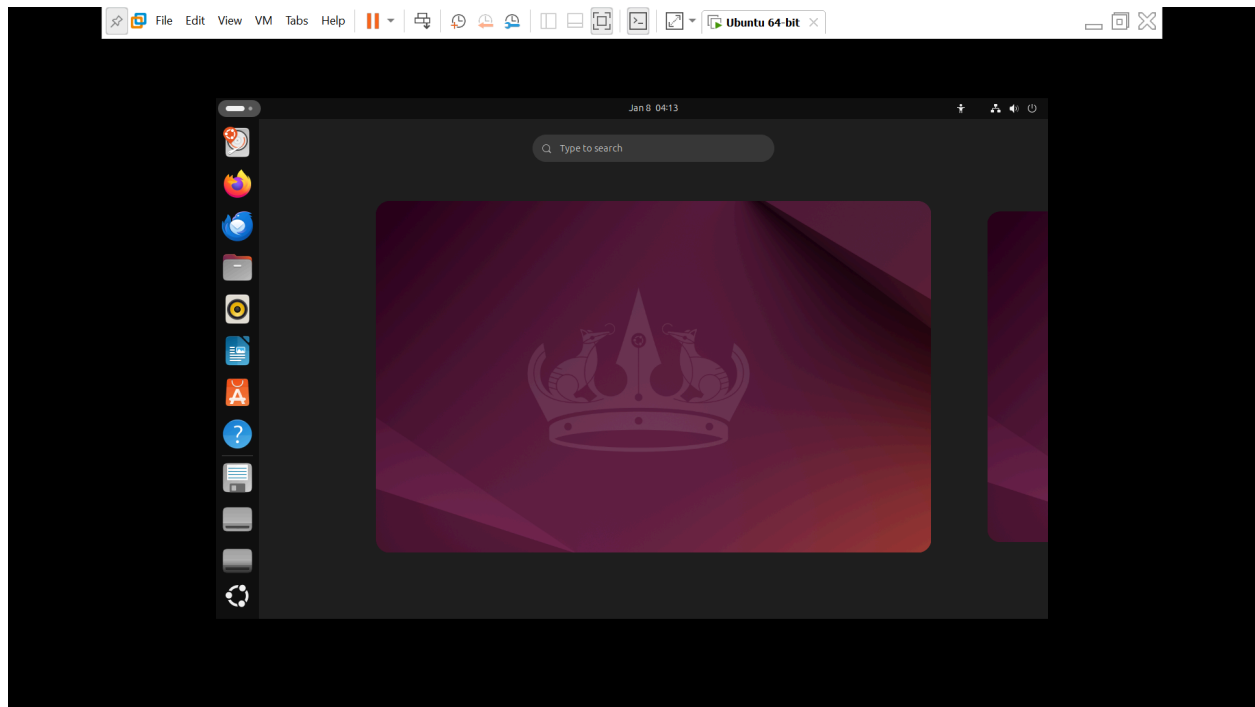

Provide appropriate credentials

Select the location for the virtual machine, select a drive which has atleast 20 gb free

And after selecting your drive click next

And there you have it your Ubuntu system is ready to use.